Sunday Tour

David's Nursery – A family run nursery, started by David Tankard in 1977. Production is 100 acres of containers, 100 acres of pot & pot, and 150 acres of field grown material. Propagation in-house in 2015: 400,000 cuttings. Total production in 2015: 3.1 million equivalent gallons (ranging from 1 to 25 gallon containers).

Eastern Shore Nursery of Virginia – Eastern Shore Nursery of Virginia was founded in 1965 and today grows 100 acres of container trees and shrubs. The customer base is independent retail garden centers and wholesale distribution centers in the northeast, mid Atlantic and mid west. Products grown include ornamental and fruit trees, flowering shrubs, broadleaf evergreens and roses.

Tankard Nurseries, Exmore, VA – Tankard Nurseries is a wholesale nursery founded in 1933 and is now in its third generation of ownership. Nursery production includes over 700 acres of above ground pots, Pot in Pot systems and field material both large and small. Ninety percent of plant material is propagated on site. The nursery offers a complete palette of quality landscape plants and ships throughout the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic states.

Virginia Tech Hampton Roads AREC – Agricultural Research and Extension Center, Virginia Beach, Va – The 70 acre Virginia Tech Hampton Roads Agricultural Research and Extension Center, located in Virginia Beach, houses research and extension facilities for faculty and support staff, public demonstration gardens, a utility line arboretum, the All-American trial gardens, and the Tidewater Arboretum. The Center provides leadership in production and health of specialty crops, water management, and environmental sustainability through nationally-recognized research and extension programs. Current projects focus on ornamental, fruit, vegetable and turf crops, and water quality of agricultural and urban ecosystems.

Monday Tour

Lancaster Farms – Lancaster Farms is a 325 acre wholesale container nursery and landscape distribution center located in Suffolk, Virginia. We grow seasonal color, perennials, roses, shrubs and trees to sell to garden centers and landscape businesses locally and throughout the Mid-Atlantic region. Started in 1969 by our founder, Charlie Parkerson, Lancaster Farms is still owned and operated today by the Parkerson family. We have the largest outdoor living display available to the public as part of our hardscape division. We propagate most of our production needs using innovative techniques developed over our 40 years of business, including the pot-in-pot method we use to grow our #15 can trees and #40 grow bags.

Norfolk Botanical Garden – Norfolk Botanical Garden includes 155-acres, with 52 themed gardens that can be viewed by tram, boat or by foot. Each of these gardens allow guests to see a variety of plants – from the cultivated to the wild. More than twenty thousand children and adults are reached every year at the Garden by programs, classes and Norfolk Botanical Garden lectures. Volunteers provide more than seventeen thousand hours each year working in all aspects of the Gardens operations. From its humble beginnings as a WPA project to its status as a nationally recognized garden that attracts visitors from around the world, Norfolk Botanical Garden has experienced amazing growth.

Tuesday Tour

Bennett's Creek Nursery, Smithfield, Virginia – Bennett's Creek Nursery is a wholesale grower with 250 acres of container production. The product mix is broad and includes annuals, perennials, grasses, shrubs, and trees. Bennett's Creek is especially known for their camellias. Bennett's Creek propagates approximately 750,000 woody liners each year.

White's Nursery and Greenhouses – White's Nursery and Greenhouses, founded in 1956 by Norman White and his wife Hetty, is comprised of a retail garden center and over 21 acres of wholesale greenhouses. White's nursery specializes in growing potted chrysanthemums, hanging baskets, bedding plants, many potted blooming plant varieties, and holiday flowering crops. (Poinsettias, Easter Lilies). White's is an innovator of many chrysanthemum-growing techniques and have recently undertaken incorporating LEAN management practices to enhance production efficiency with the aid of FlowVision, Inc.
